To whom it may concern:

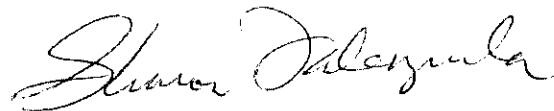

I am requesting to relinquish my daughter, Kyra Valenzuela, Tribal enrollment so that I may enroll her with her fathers tribe the Tohono O'Odham Nation. I have thought long and hard over my decision, but I feel this is the best for her educational future.

This past April, my husband was killed by a drunk driver in Hondah. Being a single mom, I started to worry about how I was going to raise Kyra alone. Kyra is a very bright girl and at the age of 12 has already attended summer school at colleges such as Stanford University, Georgia Tech university, and the University of Illinois. She commutes to Blue Ridge junior high and is already excelling in her courses.

I really am worried about whether the White Mountain Apache Tribe will be in a positive financial position to help her in six years when she goes to college. By enrolling her with her dad's tribe, I can rest assure that she will have financial help to fall back on through her tribe.

Kyra was born here and will have grown up here all through her youth and young adulthood. She will always be closer to her Apache side. However, I must take the initiative to ensure that her future is financially intact. I have explained to her that when she turns eighteen, she may go before the council and asked to re-enroll into the WMAT and that it is her decision then.

I hope you will understand I and Kyra's position at this moment. Thank You.
