DISCLAIMER: Please read. By signing, you are acknowledging that you understand and will abide by guidelines set forth. I acknowledge and fully understand that my payment is non-refundable; no substitution after October 14, 2011. I understand that I must wear my wrist band at all times—and will purchase a replacement in the amount of $ 10.00 (ten dollars). I give permission for my photos to be taken by staff, with the photo becoming property of the sponsoring organization and can be used to promote the Apache Women's Conference in the future. All photos will be used for this purpose only. I understand my photos might be used on internet site in the future and I approve; as long as the photo is in good taste and to promote the Apache women's conference. Furthermore, by signing below, I understand that children of any age cannot participate nor come to the conference. It is my understanding that once the registration is full/closed, non-registered individuals are prohibited from attending. Any individual who participates in the conference must pay the full registration fee. At anytime, should I fail to follow the guidelines set forth, Hon Dah Casino Security will do what is deemed necessary to enforce the guidelines. I understand that I am trusted to attend the conference throughout the two days or one day—I will not abuse the privilege given to me by my sponsoring organization and will become an active participant. In addition to conference bag/material, I fully understand that I must be present to receive items. Finally, the sponsors of the Apache Women's Conference are not responsible for any theft, injury, accident or otherwise to its participants who willingly assume all risks for its attendance. By signing below, I agree to abide by guidelines set forth.
